

MEDIA RELEASE

CONTACT:

Elysa Parks, Outreach Librarian

270-887-4262 ext. 124

Elysa@hccpl.org

Hopkinsville, KY—January 22, 2020—Steve Gorman, founding member and drummer for The Black Crowes, will be at Hopkinsville-Christian County Public Library for a book signing of his memoir Hard to Handle: The Life and Death of The Black Crowes on February 10 from 4:30-6:30 pm. The author will complete a reading, and participants will have the opportunity to ask questions. Attendees are encouraged to bring their own copies of the book to get signed, or they may purchase a copy at the event.

HCCPL Executive Director DeeAnna Sova stated, “Steve Gorman has strong family ties to Hopkinsville and we are excited to host his book signing at HCCPL. The timing could not be more perfect with his upcoming show at the Alhambra Theatre with his new band, Trigger Hippy, on February 28th.”

Hopkinsville-Christian County Public Library strives to create an atmosphere for the community to interact with others and to pursue their personal growth. HCCPL is supportive of local talent and we are excited and appreciative to have an author and celebrity of Mr. Gorman’s caliber at our library.

For more information about events at the library visit our website at www.hccpl.org, our social media outlets, Facebook and Instagram, or call us at 270-887-4262. To receive mobile alerts of upcoming programs and events, text HCCPL to 57838.